A Message from the Premier

Welcome to everyone attending the 2010 Family Medicine Forum at our beautiful new West Building of the Vancouver Convention Centre. I would like to commend all family physicians for their commitment to providing excellence in medical care to their patients. Forums such as this go a long way in sharing information, discussing challenges, networking and aiming to enhance family medicine for the benefit of all.

Canadians are proud of their health care system and they value the commitment made by family physicians and all health care professionals. It is great to know that Dr. Robert Thirsk and Dr. Jack Taunton will be keynote speakers at this Forum, and that the delegates will be involved in a number of Family Doctor Week activities during their time with us.

I hope you will also have an opportunity to explore the beauty and bounty of the Metro Vancouver area, nestled between the Pacific Ocean and the North Shore mountains, offering many tourism, entertainment and culinary options, as well as cultural and recreational activities to complement your West Coast experience.

Again, welcome to Vancouver and I wish you a very successful meeting.

Sincerely,

Gordon Campbell

Premier

Je tiens à féliciter tous les médecins de famille de leur engagement à atteindre l'excellence dans les soins médicaux à leurs patients. Des forums comme celui-ci offrent des possibilités multiples de partager des renseignements, de discuter des défis, de réseauter et tout ceci, dans le but d'améliorer la médecine familiale dans l'intérêt de tous.

Les Canadiens sont fiers de leur système de santé et ils valorisent l'engagement pris par les médecins de famille et tous les professionnels de la santé. ## A Message from the Mayor

On behalf of the citizens of Vancouver, and my colleagues on City Council, I want to extend my warmest greetings to all those attending the 2010 College of Family Physicians of Canada Family Medicine Forum in Vancouver. As Mayor, I am very pleased Vancouver was chosen to host this important conference.

Healthcare is a vital part of a healthy community. We don't usually think about healthcare until we need it. It is the men and women behind the scenes ensuring that we are provided with up-to-date information and top notch care. In return, it is our duty as citizens to support our family physician services and live a healthy life.

We are very proud of the reputation Vancouver enjoys as one of the world's most beautiful and unique meeting destinations. I hope that in addition to attending the conference you are able to experience the many cultural and recreational activities the City has to offer. I know everyone involved in organizing the conference will ensure your time with us is special.

Once again, welcome to Vancouver, and I hope you enjoy the conference.

Yours truly,

Gregor Robertson

MAYOR

Un message du maire

Au nom des citoyens de Vancouver et de mes collègues du Conseil municipal, je tiens à souhaiter la plus cordiale bienvenue à tous ceux qui assistent au Forum en médecine familiale 2010 du Collège des médecins de famille du Canada à Vancouver. Je suis très heureux, en tant que maire, que Vancouver ait été choisie comme ville hôte de cette importante conférence.

Les soins de santé sont essentiels au bien-être de la communauté. Nous ne pensons habituellement pas aux services de santé à moins d'en avoir besoin. Or, ce sont les femmes et les hommes derrière la scène qui assurent que nous obtenions les renseignements les plus récents et des soins de calibre supérieur. En retour, c'est notre devoir de citoyen d'appuyer les services des médecins de famille et d'adopter un mode de vie sain.

Nous sommes très fiers de la réputation de Vancouver comme l'une des destinations les plus spectaculaires et uniques au monde. J'espère qu'en plus de participer à la conférence, vous pourrez profiter des nombreuses activités culturelles et des divertissements que la ville a à vous offrir. Je sais que tous ceux qui ont organisé la conférence assureront que votre séjour parmi nous sera mémorable. Encore une fois, je vous souhaite la bienvenue à Vancouver et une excellente conférence.

Meilleures salutations.

WELCOME • BIENVENUE

To all FMF registrants,

Welcome to Family Medicine Forum (FMF) 2010 in beautiful Vancouver, British Columbia!

We are pleased to host this year's Forum in the new Vancouver Convention Centre – West Building – the first convention centre in the world to receive the Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design platinum level certification.

FMF 2010 has been planned and is co-hosted by The College of Family Physicians of Canada (CFPC), the British Columbia College of Family Physicians (BCCFP), and the CFPC's Sections of Teachers and Researchers.

The Scientific Program includes presentations focused on the clinical, teaching, and research aspects of family medicine as well as health system issues impacting family doctors and their patients today. To help those with special interests in their careers who may wish to concentrate their learning in defined areas, Family Medicine Forum offers registrants the opportunity to design personal "learning tracks" related to a range of different subjects.

Keynote sessions will be held on Thursday and Friday from 8:15 a.m. to 9:45 a.m. Thursday's keynote speaker and recipient of the CFPC-Scotiabank Family Medicine Lectureship is Dr. Robert Thirsk – CFPC member and astronaut, who will present "Exploring space: The adventures and research findings of a Canadian family physician astronaut". Friday's keynote presenter, Dr. Jack Taunton, will share his experience as the Chief Medical Officer for the Vancouver 2010 Olympic and Paralympic Winter Games in "An olympian challenge: Caring for the world's athletes".

During Friday morning's keynote, we will also be acknowledging the achievements of 17 outstanding family doctors of the future as we present the 2010 CFPC medical student scholarship awards.

The week of October 11th to 16th is "Family Doctor Week in Canada" with celebrations and special initiatives planned to recognize the outstanding care provided by Canada's family doctors and the special relationship that exists between family physicians and their patients. Family Medicine Forum is the highlight activity of Family Doctor Week in Canada.

Special events at FMF 2010 include: the Section of Researchers Dinner at Seasons in the Park on Wednesday evening (tickets required), the Section of Teachers annual dinner at the Harbourside Ballroom of the Marriott Renaissance Harbourside Hotel on Thursday evening (tickets required), and the Family Physicians of the Year Awards Ceremony and Installation of the new CFPC President, Dr. Robert Boulay, on Friday evening, followed by an All Delegates Reception. Saturday evening includes the Convocation Ceremony and FMF Celebration.

Enjoy this opportunity to learn, network and have fun as you experience FMF – one of the largest family medicine conferences in Canada.

À tous les participants au FMF,

Bienvenue au Forum en médecine familiale (FMF) 2010 dans la magnifique ville de Vancouver, en Colombie-Britannique!

Cette année, nous avons le plaisir de tenir le Forum dans l'édifice ouest du nouveau centre des congrès de Vancouver, le premier centre de congrès au monde à avoir reçu une attestation de niveau platine du Leadership en efficacité énergétique et en design environnemental.

Le Collège des médecins de famille du Canada (CMFC), le Collège des médecins de famille de la Colombie-Britannique (CMFCB) et les Sections des enseignants et des chercheurs du CMFC ont planifié et organisé conjointement le FMF 2010.

Le Programme scientifique comporte des présentations axées sur les aspects cliniques, l'enseignement et la recherche en médecine familiale, ainsi que sur les enjeux du système de santé qui sont d'actualité pour les médecins de famille et leurs patients. Pour aider ceux qui ont des intérêts particuliers dans l'exercice de leur profession et qui veulent centrer leur apprentissage sur des domaines précis, le Forum en médecine familiale offre la possibilité de concevoir leur propre « parcours éducatif » portant sur un large éventail de sujets.

Des conférenciers invités prononceront une allocution les jeudi et vendredi de 8 h 15 à 9 h 45. Le jeudi, le conférencier principal et lauréat du Prix de la Conférence CMFC/Banque Scotia, le Dr Robert Thirsk, membre du CMFC et astronaute, présentera « L'exploration de l'espace : Les aventures et les découvertes de recherche d'un médecin de famille canadien astronaute ». Le vendredi, le Dr Jack Taunton, décrira ses expériences en tant que médecin-chef durant les Jeux olympiques et paralympiques d'hiver à Vancouver en 2010 dans une allocution intitulée « Un défi olympien : Soigner les athlètes du monde ».

Au cours de la conférence d'ouverture du vendredi matin, nous célébrerons aussi les réalisations exceptionnelles de 17 médecins de famille « de demain », lors de la présentation des Bourses d'études du CMFC pour les étudiants en médecine de 2010.

La « Semaine du médecin de famille au Canada » aura lieu du 11 au 16 octobre. Des célébrations et des activités spéciales sont prévues pour reconnaître les soins exceptionnels dispensés par les médecins de famille et la relation privilégiée qui existe entre ces médecins et leurs patients. Le Forum en médecine familiale représente l'activité pivot de la Semaine.

Parmi les autres activités spéciales au FMF 2010, soulignons le dîner de la Section des chercheurs au restaurant Seasons in the Park, le mercredi soir (billets obligatoires); le dîner annuel de la Section des enseignants à la salle de bal Harbourside du Marriott Renaissance Hotel, le jeudi soir (billets obligatoires); la cérémonie de remise des Prix des médecins de famille de l'année et l'installation du nouveau président du CMFC, le Dr Robert Boulay, le vendredi soir, suivie d'une réception pour tous les délégués. La collation des grades et la soirée de gala du FMF auront lieu le samedi soir.

Ne manquez pas cette occasion unique d'apprendre, de réseauter et de vous divertir au FMF, l'une des plus grandes conférences en médecine familiale au Canada.

Originally from New Westminster, British Columbia, Dr. Robert Thirsk was in the family medicine residency program at the Queen Elizabeth Hospital in Montréal when he was selected in December, 1983 for the Canadian Astronaut Program. He began astronaut training in February 1984 and served as backup payload specialist to Marc Garneau for the October 1984 space shuttle mission.

Since then, Dr. Thirsk has been involved in various Canadian Space Agency projects including parabolic flight campaigns and mission planning. He served as crew commander for two space mission simulations. He led an international research team investigating the effect of weightlessness on the heart and blood vessels. He works with educational specialists in Canada to develop space-related curriculum for grade school students.

In 2009, Dr. Thirsk became the first Canadian Space Agency astronaut to ever fly in a Russian Soyuz spacecraft, as well as the first Canadian to undergo a long-duration mission, spending six months aboard the International Space Station on Expedition 20/21.

We have followed the journey of our colleague and fellow CFPC member, Dr. Robert Thirsk, as he continues his research, both here on earth and in space. Those attending FMF 2009 saw Dr. Thirsk "beamed in" via video link from the space station with a special message for his family physician colleagues. This year, hear about this experience from Dr. Thirsk (in person) as he shares his adventures on board the Canadian space station and details of his ongoing medical-scientific research.

Natif de New Westminster en Colombie-Britannique, le Dr Robert Thirsk était résident en médecine familiale au Complexe de santé Reine Élizabeth à Montréal quand il a été choisi en décembre 1983 pour faire partie du Programme des astronautes canadiens. Il a commencé sa formation d'astronaute en février 1984 et a agi à titre de spécialiste de charge utile comme relève à Marc Garneau lors de la mission de la navette spatiale en octobre 1984.

Depuis, le Dr Thirsk a participé à divers projets de l'Agence spatiale canadienne, notamment des campagnes de vol parabolique et la planification de missions. Il a occupé le poste de commandant d'équipage lors de deux simulations de mission spatiale. Il a dirigé une équipe de recherche internationale s'intéressant aux effets de l'apesanteur sur le cœur et les vaisseaux sanguins. Il travaille avec des spécialistes en pédagogie au Canada pour élaborer un cursus relié à l'espace à l'intention des élèves du niveau secondaire.

En 2009, le Dr Thirsk est devenu le premier astronaute de l'Agence spatiale canadienne à s'envoler dans une fusée russe Soyuz et aussi le premier Canadien à entreprendre une mission de longue durée, passant six mois à bord de la Station spatiale internationale, dans le cadre de l'Expédition 20/21.

Nous avons suivi le cheminement de notre collègue et membre du CMFC, le Dr Robert Thirsk, qui poursuit ses recherches sur terre et dans l'espace. Ceux qui ont assisté au FMF 2009 ont vu le Dr Thirsk « téléporté » par vidéo de la station spatiale et livrer un message spécial à ses collègues médecins de famille. Cette année, venez entendre le Dr Thirsk (en personne) nous parler de son expérience et raconter ses aventures à bord de la station spatiale et les détails de sa recherche médico-scientifique continue.

The CFPC-Scotiabank Family Medicine Lectureship is awarded each year to national or international figures who have made significant contributions to medicine, family medicine, and/or the health and well being of the population.

Le Prix de la Conférence de médecine familiale CMFC-Banque Scotia est remis chaque année à une personnalité nationale ou internationale qui a apporté d'importantes contributions à la médecine, à la médecine familiale et/ou à la santé et au bien-être de la population.

"An olympian challenge: Caring for the world's athletes"*« Un défi olympien : Soigner les athlètes du monde »*Jack Taunton, MD, MSc, Chief Medical Officer (CMO), Vancouver 2010 Olympic and Paralympic Winter Games
Médecin-chef, Jeux olympiques et paralympiques d'hiver de Vancouver 2010

Earlier this year, the world watched as 6,400 athletes and coaches, 2,500 International Olympic Committee and sport officials, 10,000 media representatives, 25,000 volunteers, 10,000 performers, 15,000 contractors, 5,000 Vancouver Olympic Committee staff and over 1.6 million spectators gathered for one of the greatest Winter Olympic Games in history.

When the games were over, Dr. Taunton and his team had treated 8,911 patients during the Winter Olympics and 2,680 patients during the Paralympics.

Located through the Olympic venues, the Medical Services locations involved two 10,000 square foot Polyclinics plus satellite clinics at the Vancouver International Airport, Media Centre, Olympic Family Hotels and Stadium.

In addition to these venues, there were several Athlete and Spectator Medical Centres plus mobile medical teams, covering all practice sites. At the Whistler Polyclinic, a 54-foot Mobile Medical and Operating Unit for life limb and organ salvage plus mass casualty incidents were available. The team was also responsible for working closely with Public Health partners for illness and injury surveillance plus daily food, water and air quality surveillance, plus disaster and CBRNE planning.

Dr. Taunton, a family physician and one of Canada's leaders in sports medicine, will share some of the challenges faced in attending to the medical needs of both athletes and spectators over the 60 days of the 2010 Olympic and Paralympic Winter Games.

Plus tôt cette année, tous les yeux au monde étaient tournés vers les 6 400 athlètes et entraîneurs, les 2 500 représentants du Comité international olympique et des associations sportives, les 10 000 membres des médias, les 25 000 bénévoles, les 15 000 contractuels, les 5 000 membres du personnel du Comité olympique de Vancouver et les plus de 1,6 million de spectateurs qui se sont rassemblés pour l'une des plus grandes éditions des Jeux olympiques de l'histoire.

Une fois les jeux terminés, le Dr Taunton et son équipe avaient traité 8 911 patients durant les Olympiques d'hiver et 2 680 patients durant les Paralympiques.

Localisés un peu partout sur les sites olympiques, les Services médicaux comportaient deux polycliniques de 10 000 pieds carrés, sans compter les cliniques satellites à l'Aéroport international de Vancouver, au Centre des médias, dans les hôtels de la famille olympique et au Stade.

En plus de ces endroits, on comptait aussi plusieurs centres médicaux pour athlètes et spectateurs et des équipes médicales mobiles couvrant tous les sites de soins. À la Polyclinique de Whistler, on pouvait compter sur une unité médicale et d'opération mobile pour la sauvegarde des membres et organes vivants et les interventions en cas d'incidents avec grands nombres de blessés. L'équipe était aussi responsable de travailler en étroite collaboration avec leurs partenaires de la santé publique pour la surveillance des maladies et des blessures, la surveillance de la qualité des aliments, de l'eau et de l'air, ainsi que la planification des interventions en cas de catastrophes et d'actes de terrorisme chimique, biologique, radiologique ou nucléaire.

Le Dr Taunton, médecin de famille et l'un des leaders canadiens en médecine du sport, nous parlera de certains des défis rencontrés en répondant aux besoins médicaux des athlètes et des spectateurs durant les plus de 60 jours des Jeux olympiques et paralympiques d'hiver 2010.

0700–0800      Rick Ward, MD, CCFP, FCFP, Calgary, AB      Simon Huang, MD, FRCPC, Vancouver, BC

 Room: 301-305 - Vancouver Convention Centre (West Building)

In their day-to-day practice, physicians are often faced with evaluating the risks and benefits associated with the prescription of oral nonsteroidal anti-inflammatory drugs (NSAIDs) and coxibs, and with selecting appropriate pharmacologic treatment for patients who may have comorbidities or other factors that may put them at risk for gastrointestinal or cardiorenal complications. This program aims to increase physicians' knowledge, skills and effectiveness in prescribing NSAIDs and coxibs.

Learning objectives:

At the end of this continuing health education (CHE) workshop, family physicians will be able to:

1. weigh the risk-benefit ratio of gastrointestinal and cardiorenal complications associated with the prescription of oral nonsteroidal anti-inflammatory treatments
2. select the appropriate pharmacologic treatment for patients requiring anti-inflammatory therapy, considering the patients' comorbidities and the risk of gastrointestinal and cardiorenal complications
3. review evidence-based approaches to prescribing nonsteroidal anti-inflammatory drugs as outlined in the Third Canadian Consensus guidelines

SS111      New clinical insights in postmenopausal osteoporosis: From diagnosis to fracture prevention

0700–0800      John Wade, MD, FRCPC, Vancouver, BC

 Room: 118-120 - Vancouver Convention Centre (West Building)

Osteoporosis is a leading cause of fracture in the population of Canadians over the age of 50. The associated morbidity and mortality is well-documented as is an economic burden to society. The identification and management of patients with or at risk of osteoporosis is critical in minimizing the occurrence of these fracture events. Updates on risk assessment and management along with new understanding in bone physiology will further enhance the ability to diagnose and manage osteoporosis through efficient screening and novel therapeutic agents.

Learning objectives:

By the end of this session participants will be able to:

1. incorporate new 2010 OC guidelines-based recommendations into patient care decisions
2. risk stratify patients for osteoporosis based on five key risk factors
3. develop evidence-based treatment plans for patients at risk of osteoporotic fracture
4. understand recent discoveries about bone biology and the potential impact on the management of bone loss
5. develop strategies to improve adherence with medications, and other lifestyle modifications

SS114 IMPACT: IMproving PAtient Care in Type 2 diabetes*1230–1330 *Maureen Clement, MD, CCFP, Vernon, BC David Thompson, MD, FRCPC, Vancouver, BCRoom: 118-120 - Vancouver Convention Centre (West Building)

Compared with people without diabetes, adults with Type 2 Diabetes (T2DM) in Canada make more than twice as many visits to their family doctors and specialists. They are hospitalized at higher rates for: hypertension or heart failure (x4), MI (x3), stroke (x3), chronic kidney disease (x7), lower limb amputations (x24). Family physicians provide more than 90% of diabetes care and play a crucial role in the continuity of care.

This symposium will call upon participants' knowledge of and ability to apply the 2008 CDA Clinical Practice Guidelines to both newly and previously diagnosed patients. After completing this program, participants will be better able to demonstrate the clinical benefits of optimizing glycemic control in T2DM in order to reduce the risk of micro- and macrovascular complications, assess risk factors for hypoglycemia and reflect on the importance of patient education and healthy habits. The program will revolve around interactive case scenarios and patient vignettes offering numerous opportunities for instruction and comprehensive discussion.

Learning objectives:

By the end of this program, the participant should be able to:

1. discuss the clinical benefits of optimizing glycemic control in patients with Type 2 Diabetes in order to reduce the risk of microvascular and, potentially, macrovascular complications
2. assess risk factors for hypoglycemia in order to reduce the risk for hypoglycemia and its associated complications

SS221 CANMAT Clinical Guidelines for the Management of Major Depressive Disorder

1230 – 1330 Raymond Lam, MD, FRCPC, Vancouver, BC

Room: 118-120 - Vancouver Convention Centre (West Building)

In 2009, the Canadian Network for Mood and Anxiety Treatments (CANMAT) published a major update of the 2001 evidence-based clinical guidelines for the management of major depressive disorder (MDD) in adults. The 2009 guidelines are organized into 5 sections:

Section 1 Classification, burden and principles of management

Section 2 Psychotherapy alone or in combination with antidepressant medication

Section 3 Pharmacotherapy

Section 4 Neurostimulation therapies

Section 5 Complementary and alternative medicine treatments

This satellite program will provide a concise summary of the guidelines to help physicians with their day-to-day management of patients with MDD. Both antidepressants and psychotherapy are appropriate first-line treatments for MDD. Recommendations for initiating antidepressant treatment will be highlighted, with an emphasis on medications available in Canada.

Pharmacotherapy remains the most studied and best evidenced treatment for major depressive disorder (MDD). A systematic review of publications since 2000 revealed at least 225 randomized controlled trials (RCTs) and 145 meta-analyses on antidepressant medications for MDD.

There is also increasing attention to sequencing of pharmacotherapy strategies to manage patients with non-response and incomplete remission. The evidence supports various switching strategies and add-on strategies with agents such as lithium and atypical antipsychotics. Advantages and disadvantages of these strategies and the use of clinical algorithms will be discussed.

Learning objectives:

At the end of this session, participants will be able to:

1. state the principles of contemporary management of MDD
2. select the most appropriate treatment strategies based on individual patient needs
3. utilize guideline-recommended pharmacologic and/or nonpharmacologic treatment strategies
4. optimize treatment strategies based on patient response (efficacy and tolerability)
