PRIME MINISTER • PREMIER MINISTRE

I am pleased to extend my warmest greetings to everyone taking part in the 2013 Family Medicine Forum, hosted by the College of Family Physicians of Canada (CFPC) together with the British Columbia College of Family Physicians (BCCFP), in Vancouver.

The annual Family Medicine Forum coincides with Family Doctor Week in Canada, a once-a-year opportunity to highlight the important role family physicians play in maintaining the health and well-being of Canadians of all ages. Family medicine is a challenging but rewarding specialization, which requires practitioners to work long hours, while balancing the conflicting demands of work and home life.

I would like to commend the organizers for putting together a stimulating program. I am certain that participants will benefit from the educational and networking opportunities available at this gathering, and will leave with fresh insights and renewed enthusiasm for the vital work that they do.

On behalf of the Government of Canada, I wish you all a most productive meeting.

The Rt. Hon. Stephen Harper, P.C., M.P.

PRIME MINISTER • PREMIER MINISTRE

C'est avec plaisir que je salue chaleureusement tous les participants du Forum en médecine familiale 2013, conjointement organisé par le Collège des médecins de famille du Canada (CMFC) et le Collège des médecins de famille de la Colombie-Britannique (CMFCB)

Le Forum en médecine familiale coïncide avec la Semaine du médecin de famille au Canada, une occasion de rendre un hommage annuel aux médecins qui assurent la santé et le bien-être des Canadiens de tous âges. La médecine familiale est une spécialisation exigeante mais très valorisante pour ses praticiens qui doivent travailler de longues heures tout en conciliant carrière et famille.

Je tiens à féliciter les organisateurs d'avoir préparé un programme des plus intéressants alliant discours, ateliers et expositions. Il ne fait aucun doute que les possibilités d'apprentissage et de réseautage qu'offre l'événement bénéficieront à tous les participants, et que ces derniers repartiront avec des idées novatrices et un enthousiasme renouvelé pour le travail indispensable qu'ils accomplissent.

Au nom du gouvernement du Canada, je vous souhaite un rassemblement des plus fructueux.

Le très honorable Stephen Harper, c.p., député

FMF registrants, welcome to Vancouver!

The College of Family Physicians of Canada (CFPC), the British Columbia College of Family Physicians (BCCFP), and the CFPC's Sections of Teachers and Researchers are pleased to welcome you to Family Medicine Forum (FMF) 2013 in Vancouver!

This year's program offers a robust scientific lineup for you, as well as engaging and thought-provoking speakers and events.

On Wednesday, two outstanding pre-conference activities are the 9th Annual Family Medicine Research Day and Family Medicine Education Forum - offering workshops, free-standing paper presentations, and poster displays, planned and presented by the CFPC's Section of Researchers and Section of Teachers. This is an excellent networking and learning opportunity for those with an interest in research and/or teaching.

Thursday's keynote gets things started with the 2013 CFPC-Scotiabank Family Medicine Lectureship to be presented by Chief Shawn Atleo. He will address the challenges of caring for Canada's First Nations populations in "Creating Understanding and Balance – Working together for improved First Nation health outcomes." For Friday's keynote, the topic turns to Canada's health care system as Mr Steven Lewis addresses what we need to do to "turn the system upside down."

We hope that you'll join us for the CFPC's Annual General Meeting, and explore College Square in the Exhibit Hall. Returning this year is the Mainpro Lounge, located beside College Square, where you can learn more about changes to Mainpro to better meet your learning requirements.

With a schedule chocked full of sessions, events, and activities, you'll want to keep up with the action at FMF Today—our online news source. Daily videos and articles will keep you informed of the daily highlights and what's coming up tomorrow. If you haven't done so already, download the free CFPC smartphone and tablet app so you can view the program, access the events schedule, and input your CME credits. Of course, you can also provide your comments through Twitter, Facebook, and CFPC Live.

FMF wraps up with the Convocation and Awards Ceremony on Saturday evening. As we welcome new members to the College and celebrate members' success, we are reminded of the great responsibility we have as front line health professionals to deliver exceptional health care to the people of Canada. And that's why FMF exists—to ensure continued learning and to provide an opportunity for information sharing and networking with our colleagues from across the country. Please join us at the FMF Celebration at the end of the evening, where we will celebrate another great event.

Have a wonderful week! Connect with old friends, make new friends, and make the most of FMF 2013 and your time in beautiful Vancouver.

À tous les participants au FMF : bienvenue à Vancouver !

Le Collège des médecins de famille du Canada (CMFC), le Collège des médecins de famille de la Colombie-Britannique (CMFCB) et les Sections des enseignants et des chercheurs du CMFC vous souhaitent la bienvenue au Forum en médecine familiale (FMF) 2013 de Vancouver!

Cette année, notre programme vous propose un contenu scientifique riche et présente des conférenciers et des événements engageants qui susciteront la réflexion.

Deux préconférences exceptionnelles sont à l'ordre du jour mercredi : la 9^e Journée de la recherche en médecine familiale et le Forum sur l'éducation en médecine familiale organisés respectivement par la Section des chercheurs et la Section des enseignants du CMFC. Ces activités vous permettent de suivre des ateliers, voir les présentations libres et faire la visite des affiches. En plus d'être une source d'apprentissage, il s'agit de l'occasion par excellence d'entrer en contact avec ceux et celles qui partagent votre passion pour la recherche et/ou l'enseignement.

Jeudi, le coup d'envoi est donné par le chef Shaw Atleo qui prononcera le discours d'ouverture de la Conférence de médecine familiale CMFC/Banque Scotia 2013. Sous le thème Compréhension et équilibre : Travailler ensemble pour améliorer la santé des Premières Nations, il soulignera les difficultés qu'il faut surmonter pour prendre soin des populations autochtones du Canada. Vendredi, la parole est donnée à M. Steven Lewis qui, dans son discours d'ouverture, s'intéressera au système de soins de santé du Canada et à ce qu'il convient de faire pour « révolutionner le système ».

Nous espérons que vous assisterez à l'Assemblée annuelle du CMFC et que vous prendrez le temps d'explorer le Carrefour du Collège, dans le hall d'exposition. Encore une fois cette année, vous pourrez visiter le Salon Mainpro, adjacent au Carrefour du Collège, pour obtenir des renseignements sur les changements apportés à Mainpro pour mieux répondre à vos besoins d'apprentissage.

Séances, événements, activités... avec un emploi du temps aussi chargé, vous voudrez suivre l'action à l'aide de FMF au quotidien — notre source de nouvelles en ligne. Chaque jour, des vidéos et des articles vous renseigneront sur les faits saillants de la journée et vous donneront un aperçu des activités du lendemain. Si ce n'est déjà fait, téléchargez gratuitement l'application du Collège pour tablette et téléphone intelligent afin d'accéder aux programmes, de consulter l'horaire des activités et d'inscrire vos crédits de FMC. Et bien entendu, vous pourrez écrire vos commentaires sur Twitter, Facebook et CMFC en direct.

Samedi soir, la Collation des grades et la Cérémonie de remise des prix marquent la fin du FMF. Alors que nous accueillons les nouveaux membres du Collège et que nous célébrons les réalisations de nos membres, nous sommes pleinement conscients de la grande responsabilité qui incombe à chacun de nous en tant que médecins de première ligne pour offrir des soins exceptionnels à la population canadienne. C'est pourquoi le FMF existe... Pour poursuivre l'apprentissage et fournir une occasion d'échanger des idées et d'établir des contacts avec des collègues des quatre coins du pays. Soyez des nôtres pour la soirée de clôture du FMF, une autre occasion de célébrer!

Nous vous souhaitons une merveilleuse semaine! Renouez avec vos anciens amis, faites de nouvelles connaissances, profitez pleinement du FMF 2013 et goûtez aux plaisirs de la belle ville de Vancouver.

Mr. Steven Lewis

“Eminent Domain: How Family Medicine Can Reclaim the Future”

« Supplantation : Comment la médecine familiale peut reprendre l'avenir »

As medical technology has expanded and as medical care has specialized, family medicine has narrowed. As a result, it risks eroding into irrelevance. But the principles of family medicine are even more vital than they were a generation ago, as the population ages and managing multiple comorbidities becomes the central work of contemporary health care. To fulfill its potential, family medicine will have to transform itself, in the classroom, in the community, and in the workplace. This talk will identify the key elements of transformation and why the future of the health care system depends on it.

Steven Lewis is a health policy and research consultant based in Saskatoon and an adjunct professor of health policy at Simon Fraser University. Before resuming a full-time consulting practice, he headed a health research granting agency and spent seven years as CEO of the Health Services Utilization and Research Commission in Saskatchewan. Mr Lewis has served on boards and committees for various health policy and research organizations, among them the Canadian Institutes of Health Research Governing Council, the Saskatchewan Health Quality Council, and the Health Council of Canada, as well as on the editorial boards of several journals, including Open Medicine. He writes frequently on improving quality, equity, and performance in health care, and is the moderator of the blog M.A.S.H. – Meaningful Analogies in Sports and Health.

À mesure que la technologie médicale prend de l'essor et que les soins médicaux se spécialisent, la médecine familiale se restreint et risque de tomber dans la désuétude. Or, les principes de la médecine familiale sont encore plus cruciaux qu'ils ne l'étaient il y a une génération, car la population vieillit et la prise en charge de multiples comorbidités devient le point central des soins de santé contemporains. Pour réaliser son potentiel, la médecine familiale devra se transformer, en salle de classe, dans la communauté et au travail. Ce discours soulignera les principaux éléments de transformation et pourquoi l'avenir du système de santé en dépend.

Steven Lewis est conseiller en politique de la santé et en recherche à Saskatoon, et professeur auxiliaire en politique de la santé à l'université Simon Fraser. Avant de retourner à son cabinet de consultation privé à temps plein, il était chef d'une agence de financement pour la recherche en santé et a été P.D.G. de la Health Services Utilization and Research Commission de la Saskatchewan pendant sept ans. M. Lewis a siégé à plusieurs conseils et comités, dont le Conseil d'administration des Instituts de recherche en santé du Canada, le Conseil de la qualité des services de santé de la Saskatchewan et le Conseil canadien de la santé, ainsi qu'aux conseils éditoriaux de plusieurs revues, notamment Open Medicine. Il écrit fréquemment sur l'amélioration de la qualité, de l'équité et du rendement des soins de santé, en plus d'être le modérateur du blogue M.A.S.H. – Meaningful Analogies in Sports and Health.

The Bob Robertson Award Le Prix Bob Robertson

Dr Bob Robertson was born in England and practised in Alberta from 1962 until his untimely death in 1982. As President of the College of Family Physicians of Canada (CFPC) from 1980 to 1981, his main concern was the underfunding of medical systems by provincial governments. The Bob Robertson Award, established in 1982, recognizes an individual who achieved the highest standing among family medicine residents in the CFPC's Certification Examination in Family Medicine. This year's recipient is Dr Michelle Kraus, Toronto, ON, who looks forward to a career that includes emergency medicine, palliative care, and teaching and nurturing future family physicians. The award will be presented during Convocation, Saturday, November 9th.

Né en Angleterre, Dr Bob Robertson a pratiqué en Alberta de 1962 jusqu'à son décès prématuré en 1984. En tant que président du Collège des médecins de famille du Canada (CMFC) de 1980 à 1981, sa principale préoccupation était le sous-financement des systèmes médicaux par les gouvernements provinciaux. Établi en 1982, le prix Bob Robertson reconnaît la personne parmi les résidents en médecine familiale qui a obtenu le meilleur résultat à l'examen de Certification en médecine familiale du CMFC. Cette année, la récipiendaire est Dr Michelle Kraus de Toronto, Ontario, dont la carrière comprendra la médecine d'urgence, les soins palliatifs, ainsi que l'enseignement aux futurs médecins de famille et leur encadrement. Le prix sera présenté durant la collation des grades le samedi 9 novembre.

The Irwin Bean Award Le Prix Irwin Bean

Dr Irwin Bean was born in Ogema, SK, and practised in Regina and Toronto. He was President of the College from 1962 to 1963, and the first chair and an ardent supporter of its Committee on Examinations. The Irwin Bean Award established in 1986, recognizes a family physician who achieved the highest standing among practice-eligible candidates in the CFPC's Certification Examination in Family Medicine. This year's recipient is Dr Sohan Mansingh, Mission, BC, who has a full-service family practice with an interest in chronic disease management, preventative medicine, and mental health. The award will be presented during Convocation, Saturday, November 9th.

*Dr Irwin Bean est né à Ogema, en Saskatchewan, et a exercé à Regina et à Toronto. Président du Collège de 1962 à 1963, il a été le premier président et défenseur engagé du Comité sur les examens. Créé en 1986, le Prix Irwin Bean reconnaît le médecin de famille qui a obtenu le meilleur résultat à l'examen de Certification en médecine familiale du CMFC parmi les candidats admissibles par la voie de la pratique. Cette année, le prix sera décerné à Dr Sohan Mansingh, de Mission, en Colombie-Britannique, qui offre des soins complets et globaux et a un intérêt pour la gestion des maladies chroniques, la médecine préventive et la santé mentale.
