Convocation

Convocation. Such a small word, but one that evokes emotion: Excitement. Joy. Pride. It's a culmination of years of hard work, sacrifice, and dedication. You should be proud of your accomplishments because becoming a family doctor is hard and it isn't for everyone. Family doctors have unique abilities, strong relationship building skills, and a penchant for curiosity. These are the qualities that all of you receiving certification, as well as special designations in the College, embody. Congratulations.

On behalf of the College of Family Physicians of Canada (CFPC), we are proud of your achievements and celebrate all you have done, both today as you're being recognized, as well as on every step along your family medicine journey. The CFPC continues to be in your corner and will support you and the practice of family medicine throughout your career as your professional home.

We know things are difficult right now and that investments in family medicine have been wanting. But we also know that family medicine is worth it. The CFPC is calling attention to the crisis in family medicine and working with decision makers to secure the present and safeguard the future through funding and supports for family doctors.

The CFPC recently released its Prescription for Primary Care, which highlights solutions to support and transform the practice environment so that patients continue to receive quality care while making sure family doctors get the practice supports and compensation they deserve.

And we are seeing progress.

Team Primary Care: Training for Transformation, an initiative that brings together more than 65 partners, aims to accelerate change in the way primary care providers train together in interprofessional teams.

More governments are embracing the CFPC's Patient's Medical Home vision. In 2023 the federal government announced billions in health care funding for provinces and territories, with family health services listed as one of the priority areas. While this promise of funding is a good start, the money must go to where it is needed the most—supporting primary care and family physicians.

While this is a challenging time in family medicine, it is often during the most challenging times, times of adversity, that we learn the most about ourselves. As Benjamin Disraeli, prime minister of the United Kingdom in the late 1800s, said: "There is no education like adversity." And as the modern poet LL Cool J advised: "When adversity strikes, that's when you have to be the most calm. Take a step back, stay strong, stay grounded, and press on."

Being a family physician is one of the most rewarding careers, where those rewards are often found in its challenges and its relationships.

Welcome to a career in family medicine and thank you for being part of the CFPC family! We look forward to cheering you on today and in the future.

Congratulations!

The recognition of the remarkable work in family medicine would not be possible without the Foundation for Advancing Family Medicine (FAFM)'s unwavering focus on philanthropic efforts. Every dollar the FAFM raises advances family medicine, which includes supporting excellence in education, research, and community-focused care. This evening's awards are possible thanks to the generosity of individuals like you, who understand and appreciate the immense contributions family physicians make to the health and well-being of everyone in Canada.

I want to thank the CFPC Board, CFPC Chapters, the FAFM Board, the FAFM's various donors, award committees, and stakeholders, and CFPC member volunteers who devoted their time and energy to making the Convocation possible.

There is still much work to do, but we also know we are stronger together. The CFPC continues to support you, as you support your patients and their families.

W. Victor Johnston Award

Dr. Anne Biringer
Toronto, Ontario

“Sharing with learners the joy of caring for multi-generational families from cradle to grave and even becoming a ‘grand-doctor’ several times over has immeasurably enriched my life.”

Dr. Anne Biringer has practised comprehensive family medicine, including full-scope perinatal care at Mt. Sinai Hospital, Toronto, since 1982. As an associate professor in the Department of Family and Community Medicine at the University of Toronto, she has also inspired and mentored hundreds of family medicine residents to consider providing perinatal care as part of their practice. For this, she has received numerous teaching awards at the hospital and university level. Dr. Biringer has held leadership positions on national and provincial committees, representing family medicine and its role in perinatal care.

Dr. Biringer has taught the ALARM (Advances in Labour and Risk Management) International program to health care providers in under-resourced settings worldwide—building capacity in safe birth practices. She received the Yves Talbot Award for Excellence in Global Health Leadership in 2021 as a result of her ongoing work with the Toronto Addis Ababa Academic Collaboration.

Her research interests include a wide range of topics—obstetrics, clinical, and educational. In 2022 she and two colleagues edited and published Teaching Perinatal Care: A Practical Guide. This multi-authored book focuses on strategies for teaching perinatal care, inspired by the biennial National Forum on Teaching Competence in Family Medicine Maternity Care that Dr. Biringer started in 2014.

Dr. Biringer, a champion of family medicine-based care for pregnant patients and their babies, has carried the torch in family medicine education. Her remarkable career has allowed her to participate in the most pivotal moments in a patient’s life.

Honorary Membership

Dr. Lynn Ashdown
Ottawa, Ontario

Dr. Lynn Ashdown has forged a unique path in the medical field, started at the University of Ottawa and fueled by her passion for patient advocacy and family medicine. When close to finishing her residency, her path took a turn following significant injuries, transforming her into a full-time patient and developing expertise in patient experience.

She harnesses her perspective as both a health care provider and recipient to drive systemic change. She recently completed her master's in medical education, focusing her dissertation on the value of patient partnership and patient expertise inclusion in medical education.

Dr. Ashdown regularly shares insights through presentations, podcasts, and research, notably collaborating with esteemed institutions such as the CFPC, the Coalition for Physician Learning and Practice Improvement, and the Association of Faculties of Medicine of Canada as a patient partner-lead advisor.

Dr. Ashdown champions curriculum reform that emphasizes patient partnerships in medical education and advocates for enhanced disability training in the medical field. As someone living with multiple disabilities, her advocacy extends to both patients and fellow physicians. She proudly sits on the board of the Canadian Association of Physicians with Disabilities and co-authored Canada's first position statement on the importance of disability inclusion in medical education. Presently, her involvement with the Equity in Health Systems Lab sees her playing a pivotal role in the Team Primary Care Project.

What anchors Dr. Ashdown's dedication to family medicine is the profound relationships it fosters. As a medically complex patient herself, she understands the invaluable partnership of a family doctor in navigating health care. Her journey epitomizes the belief that every patient's voice is crucial in shaping quality health care.

Honorary Membership

Dr. Brian Postl
Winnipeg, Manitoba

“Family medicine is at the heart of our health system and plays a pivotal role in improving and maintaining the health and well-being of Canadians.”

After earning a degree in medicine from the University of Manitoba in 1976, Dr. Brian Postl embarked on a highly decorated career until his retirement in 2022. Dr. Postl advocates for equitable health care for Indigenous communities and has championed equity, diversity, and inclusion across the Max Rady College of Medicine faculty. He has led medical school admissions criteria changes to create a student body that reflects Manitoba’s diverse population.

In 1999 Dr. Postl was the founding president and CEO of the Winnipeg Regional Health Authority, a position he held for 11 years. His other leadership roles included chair of Research Manitoba and federal advisor on health care wait times. He was inducted as a fellow of the Canadian Academy of Health Sciences in 2011, invested in the Order of Manitoba in 2012, and appointed to the Order of Canada in 2020 for his advancement of clinical and academic health care in the province where he spent his entire career. As a researcher, Dr. Postl focused on Indigenous and circumpolar health, documenting health inequities in the North.

Dr. Postl has been able to address health inequities and work toward providing care to all communities—especially our most vulnerable populations, at all levels of the health care system and across their life spans.
